

Abstract

In this paper we estimate the sizes of approximate solution sets for vector optimization from outside and inside, respectively. In terms of an important scalarization function, we obtain some estimates of approximate solutions for well-posed vector optimization, and some estimates of approximate solutions for well-posed vector optimization under perturbations.